

LOSES BET, MUST PUSH BABY CART

War Failed to End by August 1, So He Must Hike From Albany to Gotham.

Special to The Washington Herald.
New York, Aug. 5.—Rumor that Otto Wiedersberger intends to "hike" on paying his bet that Germany had not won the war by August 1st, has started an expedition to the State capital to forestall him.
In the event of his failure to make the hike with the perambulator, Mr. Wiedersberger was to pay $250 to Harry A. Jockin, who is a Belgian by birth and is manager of the shopping department of the United States Sarge office at the Battery, with whom he made the wager.
In sportsmanlike fashion Mr. Wiedersberger left here for Albany on Thursday. Mr. Jockin, while having shipped a baby carriage addressed to Mr. Wiedersberger in Albany. Everything appeared in due form for the 150-mile walk, to be begun from Albany tomorrow or Monday.
Then there came to Mr. Jockin a vague rumor that the losing better contemplated "putting one over" on him. It was hinted by friends that Mr. Wiedersberger would go about one of the night steamboats of the Hudson Navigation Company's fleet and perambulate on deck in the dark with the baby carriage so that none might see or gloat. In this way he meant, it was said, to fulfil the obligation of "walking to New York from Albany with a baby carriage."
"No chance in the world," remarked Mr. Jockin yesterday, when informed of this possibility. "I thought of that myself, so I arranged to get a few days off. I'm going to Albany myself tomorrow to see that Mr. Wiedersberger gets away right."

A CORNR IN ANCESTORS.

THE HUBBARD FAMILY.

Hubbards are numerous in both North and South—Was Preserved Fish a kin of Hamilton Fish?—Ancestor of Hamilton Fish probably came from Kent, England—Nicholas married Elizabeth Stuyvesant, descendant of old Dutch governor—How a German family took the name.

By FRANCES COWLES.

There is every reason to believe that the coat of arms here illustrated is one of considerable antiquity. In old England it belongs to the Hubbard family seated at Durham, and as early as 1710 it was used in this country by William Hubbard, of New York, who was, it would seem, a member of the Durham family of the name. The coat of arms is still used by many of the name in this country. It is described thus: Sable, in chief a crescent, argent, and in base an estoile of eight points or, between two flames ermine. The crest is a wolf passant or.

Hubbard

There were many "first settlers" of the name on these shores and attempts to prove kinship between them all has proved fruitless. One of the earliest of them all was George Hubbard, who was born in 1591, and came from Glastonbury and settled in Middletown, Conn., where he died in 1654. He was a member of the first court of the colony, married Elizabeth Watts and had eight children, six of whom were sons. From four of these sons, Joseph, John, Samuel and George, a very large number of those who bear the name in this country today are descended. Joseph settled in Middletown, Conn., the home of his father. John's descendants are found in New York and Hatfield, Mass. Samuel's descendants are in Vermont and elsewhere and George, who married Elizabeth Hartford, left sons whose descendants are in Illinois and New York state.

Another settler in New England was Edmund Hubbard of Hingham, England, who settled first in Charleston and then in Hingham, Mass., arriving on these shores in 1633. He was a deputy of the general court. His descendants are widespread today. A William Hobart or Hubbard, of Ipswich, Mass., established another family of the name. He was graduated from Cambridge university, England, and sailed to this country in the Defence. His wife's name was Judith. His descendants are not only in New England, but also in Washington, D. C.

The Virginia family of the name goes back to John Hubbard whose birth place was either Pennsylvania or Rhode Island. He married first Martha Saunders and later Sarah Patterson, and had nine children: George, John, Susannah, Ann, Jane, Martha, Judith, Sarah and Jemima. Descendants of these children are to be found not only in Virginia and other southern states, but in Indiana and Illinois and other western states.

Answers to Correspondents.
"Can you give me some information concerning the family of Fish?" writes L. B. C. "My grandfather's name was Samuel, his father's name was Preserved, and in turn his father's name was Artemas. Is there any connection between this family and the family of Hamilton Fish, of New York?" This answer must be answered in the negative for there seems to be no kinship between the founder of the Hamilton Fish family and the family to which Preserved Fish belonged. At least these two families trace their origin to two distinct "founders" and so far as records show there was no relationship between them.

The family made famous by Hamilton Fish was founded by Jonathan Fish who was born in England and died in this country in 1683. He resided for some time at Lynn, Mass., and from there removed to Sandwich, Cape Cod. In 1683 he went to Newton, Long Island, and in 1683 and 1684 he was magistrate of that town. Fifth in descent from this Jonathan Fish was Nicholas Fish, of New York city, who was a Justice in the Revolution. He married Elizabeth Stuyvesant, a great granddaughter of Petrus Stuyvesant, the last of the old Dutch governors of New Amsterdam. The celebrated Hamilton Fish was a son of this Nicholas Fish. The coat of arms borne by this branch of the Fish family is that of the Fish family of Kent, England. It is blazoned: Sable, a chev. argent, between three fleurs de lis argent. The crest is a tiger's head, erased ermine, maned and tusked or.

There is some reason for believing that Jonathan, the founder of this family, was one of three brothers who came from Kent, the other two being Nathaniel and John. They were all residents of Lynn previous to 1687. Nathaniel removed to Newton, Jonathan removed to Newton, and John founded the New York branch of the family. John went to New Jersey and founded the Trenton branch of the family.

The family to which Preserved Fish belongs was founded in this country by Thomas and Mary Fish who had seven children. Thomas died in Rhode Island in 1687. The children were Thomas who married Grizel Stranahan, Daniel and David. Of these the last mentioned David married Jemima Tallman and one of their sons was named Preserved. He married first in 1759 Sarah Lawton, second Elizabeth Austen.

To return to the one time secretary of state, Hamilton Fish—he married Julia Kean and they had five children, the three sons being Hamilton Fish, Jr., Nicholas Fish and Stuyvesant Fish.

It is a rather interesting fact that there is a second New York family of the name who were not originally Fishes at all. Their first settler was one J. Finch who came from Germany, where he was born in 1760. He settled in Schoharie, New York state, where he died in 1820.

KINDNESS FOR HORSES ASKED

Humane Society Urges Particular Care for Dumb Brutes in Hot Weather

The Washington Humane Society, through its secretary, John P. Heap, has issued an appeal to the public urging kind and considerate treatment for the horse and other dumb beasts during this oppressively warm weather.

"Numerous complaints of heat exhaustion and prostration are being received daily and it is difficult to keep up with them," says Mr. Heap. "With the exercise of more consideration and discretion on the part of drivers this sad and deplorable condition would be greatly mitigated."

The toll of the heat and cruelty has ranged between fifteen and twenty cases a day for the past three weeks, and has run as high as twenty-five on one occasion. This represents only those that have been brought to our attention—there may be many more we have not heard of, and likely is," continued Mr. Heap.

The following suggestions for the care of the horse in hot weather are proffered: Rest your horse often in hot weather, if only for a few minutes at a time, and see that he has water frequently. Do not let him stand in the hot sun. If it is necessary that he should stand for any length of time be sure to get his head in the shade.

If your horse is overcome by heat get him as soon as may be into a cool, shady place, but in the open air, and bathe his head and rinse his mouth with cold water. If possible apply ice to the head and along the spine.

In the summer time your stable should be thoroughly ventilated with as many openings as possible. But screen all windows with netting and use screen doors to protect the horse when standing in his stall from mosquitoes and other insects. A horse is frequently deprived of his natural rest during the night by the bites of insects and begins his day's work in poor condition.

THREE RUNAWAY GIRLS HELD IN BALTIMORE

Special to The Washington Herald.
Baltimore, Aug. 5.—Three girls who left their homes in Havre de Grace to come to this city for work were taken into custody this morning by Detective Creamer and turned over to the Children's Aid Society. The girls gave their names as Esther Salik, May Foley and Minnie Pons, and their ages as, respectively, 16, 17 and 15 years.

They were taken by the detective from the home of Frank Desanto of South Eighth street, Highlandtown, who is now in jail at Towson, on a charge of conducting a disorderly house. They say they were directed to the house when they inquired where they could find employment.

Information has been received from their homes in Havre de Grace that they left without consent of their parents. They were held.

Just across the street from the A. V. M. A. meeting place.

LEWIS DEFENDS WILSON FROM ATTACK OF HUGHES

Senator Lewis, of Illinois, yesterday defended the Wilson administration against the attack made by Candidate Hughes in his notification speech.

The Illinois Senator declared that Republicans were responsible for much of the trouble in Mexico, since they permitted the impression to go forth that the country was not united in support of the Chief Executive.

"Not until the captains of the Republican party shot at the President of the United States did the Mexican outlaw shoot at the soldiers of the American President," he said.

BULGARIA REPROVED FOR BORDER TROUBLE

(By the International News Service.)
Bucharest, Aug. 5.—Bulgaria has been warned by Roumania that good relations between the two countries are being jeopardized by certain incidents on the frontier.

The following information was secured from a semi-official source today: "In view of the recent incidents on the Roumano-Bulgarian frontier, the Roumanian foreign minister called the attention of the Bulgarian government to the fact that these occurrences are too frequent and do not harmonize with the good relations prevailing between the two countries."

CONFEREES PARE $46,000,000.

Pruning Knife Cuts Army Bill to $267,000,000.

The pruning knife was wielded by the conferees on the army bill yesterday and $46,000,000 was clipped from the measure as it passed the Senate.

The bill now carries a total of $267,000,000, sufficient to carry out the preparedness program of President Wilson. It is an increase of $85,000,000 over the House figures.

When the conference report is finally made it will be the subject of extended discussion in both branches.

SUSPECT CHINAMAN OF THEFT.

May Be Assistant Postmaster Who Stole $1,600.

Baltimore, Aug. 5.—Suspected of being the assistant postmaster of a town near Honolulu, who decamped recently with $1,600 of the government funds, a Chinaman is being held by the local United States authorities.

He was arrested this morning by United States Marshal Stockman and Deputy Marshal Edelen aboard the ship Alaska, on which he was employed as a steward.

LEAVES ESTATE TO WIFE.

Will of W. D. Mackenzie Also Makes Minor Bequests.

The will of William D. Mackenzie, dated May, 1915, was filed for probate yesterday. It provides that his sister, Kate E. Lockhart, receive $200 and $100 is left to each of his sisters, Isabel McKay, of Charlestown, Canada, and Flora M. Lee, of Painesville, Ohio. The residue of the estate is left to his wife, Gertrude E. Mackenzie.

A flash of lightning lights up the ground for one-millionth of a second, yet it seems to us to last ever so much longer. What happens is that the impression remains in the retina of the eye for about one-eighth of a second, or 121,000 times longer than the flash lasts.

FRANCE TO WAR AHEAD UNTIL VICTORY CROWNS

(By the International News Service.)
Paris, Aug. 5.—President Poincaré, replying to the telegram sent by King George on the anniversary of England's entry into the war, telegraphed as follows: "It is impossible to see the allied troops at work without having absolute confidence in their success. I can assure your majesty that France, in spite of her heavy sacrifice, is resolute, like England and her other allies, to carry the war through to rightful victory."

ITALY BREAKS OFF ALL RELATIONS WITH BERLIN

Rome, via London, Aug. 5.—Reports that Italy has broken off all relations with Germany were confirmed by an official announcement made here today. The government is taking over all concerns financed by German capital.

The official statement says: "The commercial treaty between Italy and Germany has been denounced. Business relations with the Germans have been prohibited. The government has been authorized to assume control of all concerns financed by German capital."
